Private Offering Notice Summary Terms

The Notes:

- The Notes are designed for investors who believe that the rate of the 10-Year Constant Maturity Treasury Rate (the "CMT10 Rate") will decrease from the pricing date, the date the Notes are priced for initial sale to the public, to a valuation date shortly before the maturity date. Investors must be willing to forego interest payments on the Notes and accept a cap on their return of between 12% to 22% (or $120 to $220 per unit) of the original public offering price.
- 95% principal protection on the maturity date. Investors may lose up to 5% of their investment (or $50 per unit) if the CMT10 Rate increases from the pricing date to a valuation date shortly before the maturity date.
- There will be no payments prior to the maturity date; and the Notes cannot be redeemed prior to the maturity date.
- The Notes are made available to each investor outside of the United States in a minimum initial investment of US$50,000 (US$100,000 for residents of the European Economic Area) or other amounts as permitted by local jurisdictions, and subject to any other restrictions, as may be applicable to an investor under the private offering rules of any jurisdiction outside of the United States.
- The Notes will not be listed on any securities exchange.
- The Notes will be senior unsecured debt securities of Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc., denominated and payable in United States dollars, and part of a series entitled "Medium-Term Notes, Series C". The Notes will have the CUSIP No.
- The settlement date for the Notes is expected to be July , 2008.

Payment on the maturity date:

- The amount an investor receives on the maturity date per unit will be based upon the direction of and change in the CMT10 Rate from the starting rate, determined on the pricing date, to the ending rate, determined on a valuation date shortly before the maturity date. If the ending rate of the CMT10 Rate:
  - has decreased from the starting rate, an investor will receive a payment per unit equal to $1,000 plus an amount equal to forty times the amount of such decrease, multiplied by $1,000. However, in no event will an investor receive a return greater than 12% to 22% (or $120 to $220 per unit) of the original public offering price, as described in the offering documents.
  - is unchanged from the starting rate, you will receive $1,000 per unit.
  - has increased from the starting rate, an investor will receive a payment per unit equal to $1,000 minus an amount equal to eight times the amount of such increase, multiplied by $1,000. However, in no event will an investor receive less than 95% of the original public offering price (or $950 per unit), as described in the offering documents.
- The starting rate and actual cap on the return on the Notes will be determined on the pricing date and set forth in the final offering document made available in connection with sales of the Notes.
