Summary

The STEP Income Securities<sup>SM</sup> linked to the common stock of Freeport-McMoRan Copper & Gold Inc. (the "Underlying Stock") due July 14, 2009 (the "Notes") are senior, unsecured debt securities of Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. ("ML&Co.") that are designed for investors who seek quarterly interest payments on their investment and want the opportunity to receive an additional payment at maturity (the "Step Payment") if the Ending Value (as defined below) of the Underlying Stock on the Valuation Date is at or above the Step Level (as defined below). If the Ending Value of the Underlying Stock on the Valuation Date is below the Step Level (as defined below). If the Ending Value of the Underlying Stock on the Valuation Date is below the Step Level, the amount you receive on the Maturity Date (the "Redemption Amount") will not be greater than the Original Public Offering Price per unit and will be based on the direction of and percentage change in the level of the Underlying Stock from the Starting Value, as determined on June 26, 2008, the date the Notes were priced for initial sale to the public (the "Pricing Date"), to the Ending Value, as determined on June 26, 2008, the date the a repayment of principal that may be less, and potentially significantly less, than the Original Public Offering Price of the Notes. Investors should be willing to accept that no Step Payment will be payable on the Maturity Date if the closing level of the Underlying Stock is below the Step Level and be willing to lose a portion of their principal if the Ending Value is below the Threshold Level.

Determining Payment at Maturity for the Notes

You will receive interest on your Notes at a rate of 11.86% per year, payable quarterly in arrears computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months. In addition to interest payable, on the Maturity Date you will be entitled to receive the Redemption Amount, a payment per unit calculated as follows:

STEP Income Securities®

Hypothetical Payments

Set forth below are four hypothetical examples of payment calculations related to the Notes. These examples have been prepared for purposes of illustration only. Your actual return will depend on the actual Ending Value and the term of your investment. These examples reflect:

1) the Starting Value of 116.8085, the Volume Weighted Average Price of the Underlying Stock on the Pricing Date;

2) the Threshold Level of 105.1277 (equal to 90% of the Starting Value);

3) the Step Level of 130.6620 (equal to 111.86% of the Starting Value);

4) the Step Payment equal to 5% of the $10 Original Public Offering Price per unit if the Ending value is greater than or equal to the Step Level;

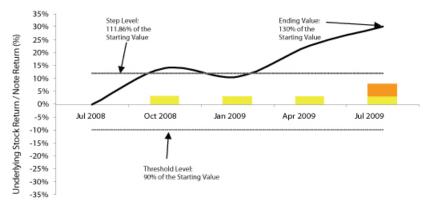

5) the term of the Notes from July 7, 2008 to July 14, 2009; and

6) interest payable quarterly in arrears at a rate of 11.86% of the $10 Original Public Offering Price per unit per annum.

Example 1

The Ending Value is 151.8511 on the Valuation Date (130% of the Starting Value)

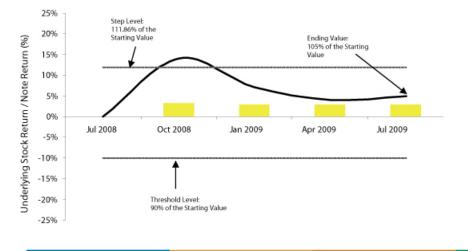

The hypothetical Ending Value of the Underlying Stock on the Valuation Date is greater than the Step Level. Consequently, in addition to the quarterly interest payments (represented in yellow below), on the Maturity Date you will receive the Step Payment (represented in orange below). The Redemption Amount per unit on the Maturity Date will therefore be equal to $10.50 ($10.00 Original Public Offering Price plus the Step Payment).

Example 2

The Ending Value is 122.6489 on the Valuation Date (105% of the Starting Value)

The hypothetical Ending Value of the Underlying Stock on the Valuation Date is greater than the Starting Value but below the Step Level. Consequently, you will receive the quarterly interest payments (represented in yellow below) but not the Step Payment. The Redemption Amount per unit on the Maturity Date will therefore be equal to the $10.00 Original Public Offering Price.

STEP Income Securities

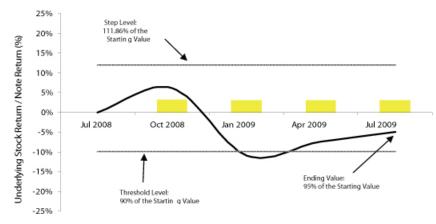

TS-3

Example 3

The Ending Value is 110.9681 on the Valuation Date (95% of the Starting Value)

The hypothetical Ending Value of the Underlying Stock on the Valuation Date is less than the Starting Value but above the Threshold Level. Consequently, you will receive the quarterly interest payments (represented in yellow below) but not the Step Payment. Because the Ending Value is not below the Threshold Level, the Redemption Amount per unit on the Maturity Date will be equal to the $10.00 Original Public Offering Price.

Example 4

The Ending Value is 81.7660 on the Valuation Date (70% of the Starting Value)

The hypothetical Ending Value of the Underlying Stock on the Valuation Date is less than the Threshold Level. Consequently, you will receive only the quarterly interest payments (represented in yellow below). You will not receive the Step Payment, and you will participate in the decrease of the Underlying Stock in excess of the Threshold Level. The Redemption Amount per unit will equal:

$$10 + \left( 10 \times \left( \frac{81.7660 - 105.1277}{116.8085} \right) \times 100\% \right) = 88.00$$

On the Maturity Date you will receive the Redemption Amount per unit ($8.00).

Risk Factors

An investment in the Notes involves significant risks. The following is a list of certain of the risks involved in investing in the Notes. You should carefully review the more detailed explanation of risks relating to the Notes in the "Risk Factors" sections included in the product supplement and MTN prospectus supplement identified below under "Additional Terms of the Notes". We also urge you to consult your investment, legal, tax, accounting and other advisers before you invest in the Notes.

- You will not receive a Step Payment at maturity unless the Ending Value is greater than or equal to the Step Level on the Valuation Date.
- Your investment may result in a loss.
- Your return is limited and will not reflect the return of a direct investment in the Underlying Stock.
- Your return on the Notes, which could be negative, may be lower than the return on other debt securities of comparable maturity.
- You must rely on your own evaluation of the merits of an investment linked to the Underlying Stock.
- In seeking to provide investors with what we believe to be commercially reasonable terms for the Notes while providing MLPF&S with compensation for its services, we have considered the costs of developing, hedging and distributing the Notes. If a trading market develops for the Notes (and such a market may not develop), these costs are expected to affect the market price you may receive or be quoted for your Notes on a date prior to the stated maturity date.
- Many factors affect the trading value of the Notes; these factors interrelate in complex ways and the effect of any one factor may offset or magnify the effect of another factor.
- The Underlying Company will have no obligations relating to the Notes and no diligence will be performed with respect to the Underlying Company.
- You are not entitled to stockholder's rights including the right to receive cash dividends or exercise ownership rights with respect to the Underlying Stock.
- Purchases and sales by us and our affiliates may affect your return on the Notes.
- Potential conflicts of interest could arise.
- Tax consequences are uncertain.

Investor Considerations

You may wish to consider an investment in the Notes if:

- You anticipate that the closing level of the Underlying Stock on the Valuation Date will be greater than or equal to the Step Level.
- You seek interest payments on your investment.
- You are willing to accept that the maximum return on the Notes is limited to the sum of the quarterly interest payments and the Step Payment, if any.
- You accept that your investment may result in a loss, which could be significant, if the level of the Underlying Stock decreases below the Threshold Level from the Starting Value to the Ending Value.
- You want exposure to the Underlying Stock with no expectation of dividends or other benefits of owning the Underlying Stock.
- You are willing to accept that there is no assurance that the Notes will remain listed and that such listing will not ensure that a trading market will develop for the Notes or that there will be liquidity in the trading market (see "Other Provisions and Considerations" below).

The Notes may not be appropriate investments for you if:

- You anticipate that the level of the Underlying Stock will depreciate from the Starting Value to the Ending Value and that the Ending Value may be less than the Threshold Level.
- You are seeking 100% principal protection or preservation of capital.
- In addition to interest payments, you seek an additional guaranteed return at a premium above the principal amount of the Notes.
- You anticipate that the level of the Underlying Stock will appreciate substantially from the Starting Value to the Ending Value and do not want a payment at maturity that is limited to the Step Payment.
- You want to receive dividends paid on, and ownership rights with respect to, the Underlying Stock.
- You want assurances that there will be a liquid market if and when you want to sell the Notes prior to maturity.

Other Provisions and Considerations

We may deliver the Notes against payment therefor in New York, New York on a date that is in excess of three business days following the Pricing Date. Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in three business days, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, if the initial settlement on the Notes occurs more than three business days from the Pricing Date, purchasers who wish to trade Notes more than three business days prior to the original issue date will be required to specify alternative settlement arrangements to prevent a failed settlement.

If you place an order to purchase these offered securities, you are consenting to each of MLPF&S and its broker-dealer affiliate First Republic Securities Company, LLC acting as a principal in effecting the transaction for your account. MLPF&S is acting as an underwriter and/or selling agent for this offering and will receive underwriting compensation from the issuer of the securities.

AMEX has entered into an agreement to be acquired by NYSE Euronext, the parent company of the New York Stock Exchange and NYSE Arca. The acquisition is subject to certain regulatory approvals, but may close in August 2008. NYSE Euronext has stated that, if the acquisition is completed, issuers of structured products (such as the Notes) listed on AMEX will be required to delist those securities, but may apply to relist the securities on NYSE Arca. In that event (and subject to the NYSE Arca listing requirements to which the relisted Notes would be subject being, in our judgment, not materially more onerous than the current AMEX listing requirements), we expect to use our reasonable efforts to effect the listing of the Notes on the NYSE Arca.

Supplement to the Plan of Distribution

MLPF&S and First Republic Securities Company, LLC, each a broker-dealer subsidiary of ML&Co., are members of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. (formerly the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (the "NASD")) and will participate in the distribution of the Notes. Accordingly, offerings of the Notes will conform to the requirements of NASD Rule 2720.

MLPF&S and First Republic Securities Company, LLC may use this Note Prospectus for offers and sales in secondary market transactions and market-making transactions in the Notes but are not obligated to engage in such secondary market transactions and/or market-making transactions. MLPF&S and First Republic Securities Company, LLC may act as principal or agent in these transactions, and any such sales will be made at prices related to prevailing market prices at the time of the sale.

Certain U.S. Federal Income Taxation Considerations

Set forth below is a summary of certain U.S. federal income tax considerations relating to an investment in the Notes. The following summary is not complete and is qualified in its entirety by the discussion under the section entitled "United States Federal Income Taxation" in the accompanying product supplement STEPS-1 and MTN prospectus supplement, which you should carefully review prior to investing in the Notes. Capitalized terms used and not defined herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the accompanying product supplement STEPS-1.

There are no statutory provisions, regulations, published rulings or judicial decisions addressing or involving the characterization and treatment, for United States federal income tax purposes, of the Notes or securities with terms substantially the same as the Notes. Accordingly, the proper United States federal income tax characterization and treatment of the Notes is uncertain. Pursuant to the terms of the Notes, ML&Co. and every holder of a Note agree (in the absence of an administrative determination, judicial ruling or other authoritative guidance to the contrary) to characterize and treat a Note for all tax purposes as an investment unit consisting of the following components (the "Components"): (i) a debt instrument of ML&Co. (the "Debt Instrument") with a fixed principal amount unconditionally payable on the Maturity Date equal to the principal amount of the Notes and bearing stated interest rate for the Notes and (ii) a cash-settled financial contract (the "Financial Contract") pursuant to which the holder is required to use the principal payment due on the Debt Instrument to make a payment to ML&Co. on the Maturity Date in exchange for cash in an amount equal to the Redemption Amount. Furthermore, based on ML&Co.'s determination of the relative fair market values of the Components at the time of issuance of the Notes, ML&Co. will assign $10.6791 of the original issue price of the Notes (i.e., the Original Public Offering Price) to the Debt Instrument and will assign $0.6791 the original issue price of the Notes (i.e., the Original Public Offering Price) to the Debt Instrument and will assign $0.6791 the original issue price of the Notes (i.e., the Original Public Offering Price) to the Financial Contract. Based upon the foregoing, a holder who acquires a Note in connection with the original issue price of the Notes (i.e., the Debt Instrument doe will be treated as having purchased the Debt Instrument for $10.6791 per unit and as having received an initial payment with respect to the Financial Contra Due to the absence of authorities that directly address instruments that are similar to the Notes, significant aspects of the United States federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes are not certain, and no assurance can be given that the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") or the courts will agree with the characterization and tax treatment described above. Accordingly, prospective purchasers are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the United States federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes) and with respect to any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or foreign taxing jurisdiction.

Possible Future Tax Law Changes. On December 7, 2007, the IRS released a notice that could possibly affect the taxation of holders of the Notes. According to the notice, the IRS and the U.S. Department of the Treasury (the "Treasury Department") are actively considering, among other things, whether the holder of an instrument having terms similar to the Notes should be required to accrue either ordinary income or capital gain (possibly in excess of any interest payments) on a current basis, and they are seeking comments on the subject. It is not possible to determine what guidance they will ultimately issue, if any. It is possible, however, that under such guidance, holders of instruments having terms similar to the Notes will ultimately be required to accrue income currently and this could be applied on a retroactive basis. The IRS and the Treasury Department are also considering other relevant issues, including whether additional gain or loss from such instruments should be treated as ordinary or capital, whether foreign holders of such instruments should be subject to withholding tax on any deemed income accruals, whether the tax treatment of such instruments should vary depending upon whether or not such instruments are traded on a securities exchange, whether such instruments should be treated as indebtedness, whether the tax treatment of such instruments should vary depending upon the nature of the underlying asset, and whether the special "constructive ownership rules" contained in Section 1260 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended might be applied to such instruments. Holders are urged to consult their tax advisors concerning the significance, and the potential impact, if any, of the above considerations to their investment and IRS determine that some other treatment is more appropriate.

Prospective purchasers of the Notes should consult their own tax advisors concerning the tax consequences, in light of their particular circumstances, under the laws of the United States and any other taxing jurisdiction, of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Notes. See the discussion under the section entitled "United States Federal Income Taxation" in the accompanying product supplement STEPS-1.

Experts

The consolidated financial statements incorporated by reference in this term sheet from Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc.'s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 28, 2007 and the effectiveness of Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. and subsidiaries' internal control over financial reporting have been audited by Deloitte & Touche LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their reports, incorporated herein by reference (which reports (1) expressed an unqualified opinion on the consolidated financial statements and included an explanatory paragraph regarding the changes in accounting methods in 2007 relating to the adoption of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, "Fair Value Measurement," Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Liabilities—Including an amendment of FASB Statement No. 115," and FASB Interpretation No. 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, an Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109," and in 2006 for share-based payments to conform to Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004), "Share-Based Payment," and included an explanatory paragraph relating to the restatement discussed in Note 20 to the consolidated financial statements and (2) expressed an unqualified opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting). Such consolidated financial statements and (2) expressed on unqualified opinion on the accounting and auditing.

With respect to the unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial information as of March 28, 2008 and for the three-month periods ended March 28, 2008 and March 30, 2007, which is incorporated herein by reference, Deloitte & Touche LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, have applied limited procedures in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) for a review of such information. However, as stated in their report included in Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc.'s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 28, 2008 and incorporated by reference herein (which report included an explanatory paragraph relating to the restatement discussed in Note 16 to the condensed consolidated interim financial statements), they did not audit and they do not express an opinion on that interim financial information. Accordingly, the degree of reliance on their reports on such information should be restricted in light of the limited nature of the review procedures applied. Deloitte & Touche LLP are not subject to the liability provisions of Section 11 of the Securities Act of 1933 for their reports on the unaudited interim financial information because those reports are not "reports" or a "part" of the Registration Statement prepared or certified by an accountant within the meaning of Sections 7 and 11 of the Act.

Structured Investments Classification

ML&Co. classifies certain of its structured investments (the "Structured Investments"), including the Notes, into four categories, each with different investment characteristics. The description below is intended to briefly describe the four categories of Structured Investments offered: Principal Protection, Enhanced Income, Market Participation and Enhanced Participation. A Structured Investment may, however, combine characteristics that are relevant to one or more of the other categories. As such, a category should not be relied upon as a description of any particular Structured Investment.

Principal Protection: Principal Protected Structured Investments offer full or partial principal protection at maturity, while offering market exposure and the opportunity for a better return than may be available from comparable fixed income securities. Principal protection may not be achieved if the investment is sold prior to maturity.

Enhanced Income: Structured Investments offering enhanced income may offer an enhanced income stream through interim fixed or variable coupon payments. However, in exchange for receiving current income, investors may forfeit upside potential on the underlying asset. These investments generally do not include the principal protection feature.

Market Participation: Market Participation Structured Investments can offer investors exposure to specific market sectors, asset classes and/or strategies that may not be readily available through traditional investment alternatives. Returns obtained from these investments are tied to the performance of the underlying asset. As such, subject to certain fees, the returns will generally reflect any increases or decreases in the value of such assets. These investments are not structured to include the principal protection feature.

Enhanced Participation: Enhanced Participation Structured Investments may offer investors the potential to receive better than market returns on the performance of the underlying asset. Some structures may offer leverage in exchange for a capped or limited upside potential and also in exchange for downside risk. These investments are not structured to include the principal protection feature.

The classification of Structured Investments is meant solely for informational purposes and is not intended to fully describe any particular Structured Investment nor guarantee any particular performance.
