Risk factors

Please see the Preliminary Offering Documents for a description of certain risks related to this investment, including, but not limited to, the following:

- Your investment may result in a loss; there is no guaranteed return of principal.
- Payments on the notes are subject to the credit risk of BofA Finance and the credit risk of BAC, and actual or perceived changes in the creditworthiness of BofA Finance or BAC are expected to affect the value of the notes. If BofA Finance and BAC become insolvent or are unable to pay their respective obligations, you may lose your entire investment.
- The initial estimated value of the notes on the pricing date will be less than their public offering price.
- If you attempt to sell the notes prior to maturity, their market value may be lower than both the public offering price and the initial estimated value of the notes on the pricing date.
- Your investment return is limited to the return represented by the Step Up Payment and may be less than a comparable investment directly in the Market Measure or the assets held by the Market Measure
- You will have no rights of a holder of the Market Measure or the assets held by the Market Measure, and you will not be entitled to receive the assets held by or other distributions on the Market Measure.
- There are liquidity and management risks associated with the Market Measure.
- The performance of the Market Measure may be adversely influenced by silver prices, which may change unpredictably and adversely affect the value of the notes in unforeseeable ways.
- There are risks associated with commodities trading on the London Bullion Market Association.
- The Notes are subject to risks associated with silver.
- The notes will not be regulated by the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

Final terms will be set on the pricing date within the given range for the specified Market-Linked Investment. Please see the Preliminary Offering Documents for complete product disclosure, including related risks and tax disclosure.
