Bank of America Corporation Announces CME Term SOFR as Benchmark Replacement
Rate for Certain Outstanding USD LIBOR Securities After June 30, 2023

CHARLOTTE, N.C. – Bank of America Corporation (“BAC”) (NYSE: BAC), BofA Finance LLC (“BofA Finance”) and certain other BAC-affiliated issuers have issued and outstanding certain floating or fixed-to-floating rate debt securities, preferred stock represented by depositary shares and trust preferred securities, listed in the Annexes to this press release, that are governed by New York or Delaware law, for which U.S. dollar LIBOR (“USD LIBOR”), for one- or three-month tenors, serves as the benchmark rate used in connection with the calculation or determination of applicable interest, dividend or distribution payments (the “USD LIBOR Securities”). On March 5, 2021, the U.K.’s Financial Conduct Authority announced that after June 30, 2023, USD LIBOR for such tenors (along with other remaining tenors of USD LIBOR) would cease publication or no longer be representative. In connection with the cessation of representative USD LIBOR, on March 15, 2022, Congress enacted the Adjustable Interest Rate (LIBOR) Act (the “LIBOR Act”), and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the “Board”) has issued final rules thereunder (the “LIBOR Rule”).

BAC is issuing this press release to announce its expectation that, on the first London banking date after June 30, 2023 (the “LIBOR Replacement Date”), the CME Term SOFR Reference Rate published for the one- or three-month tenor (that corresponds to the applicable USD LIBOR tenor), as administered by CME Group Benchmark Administration, Ltd. (or any successor administrator thereof) (“CME Term SOFR”), plus the applicable tenor spread adjustment described below (such rate being the “Board-selected benchmark replacement” under the LIBOR Rule) will be the reference rate for calculations or determinations of applicable interest, dividend or distribution payments for each of the USD LIBOR Securities listed in the Annexes to this press release. The replacement of USD LIBOR as the benchmark rate for each of the USD LIBOR Securities, with CME Term SOFR for the applicable corresponding tenor, plus the applicable tenor spread adjustment, will be effective for determinations under the terms of the USD LIBOR Securities that are made on and after the LIBOR Replacement Date, but will not affect any determinations made prior to the LIBOR Replacement Date.

Non-Workable Contractual Fallbacks

The USD LIBOR Securities listed in Annex 1 to this press release, contain fallback provisions that provide for (i) a poll or inquiries for quotes or information related to USD LIBOR or (ii) benchmark replacements based on USD LIBOR values (such as the most recently available USD LIBOR rate or USD LIBOR rate as determined by the calculation agent using discretion). Under the LIBOR Act and LIBOR Rule, on the LIBOR Replacement Date, by operation of law (i) these fallback provisions will be disregarded and deemed null and void and without any force or effect, and (ii) USD LIBOR will be replaced as the benchmark rate by CME Term SOFR for the tenor that corresponds to the applicable USD LIBOR tenor, plus the applicable tenor spread adjustment.

Determining Person Discretion

The USD LIBOR Securities listed in Annex 2 to this press release contain fallback provisions authorizing an investment bank of national or international standing, as applicable, to select the benchmark replacement rate for three-month USD LIBOR. Under the LIBOR Act and the LIBOR Rule, such investment bank is the person with the sole authority under the terms of these USD LIBOR Securities to determine a benchmark replacement for USD LIBOR (referred to in the LIBOR Act and LIBOR Rule as the “determining person”). For each of these USD LIBOR Securities, BAC and BofA Finance, as issuers of such securities, have appointed BofA Securities, Inc. as the determining person, and it has selected three-month CME Term SOFR, plus the applicable tenor spread adjustment, as the benchmark replacement for three-month USD LIBOR on and after the LIBOR Replacement Date.

ARRC Recommended Fallback Provisions

The USD LIBOR Securities listed in Annex 3 to this press release contain fallback provisions for three-month USD LIBOR substantially in the form recommended on April 25, 2019 by the Alternative Reference Rates Committee (“ARRC”) convened by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. For each of these USD LIBOR Securities, in accordance with these fallback provisions, it is expected that USD LIBOR will be replaced as the benchmark rate by CME Term SOFR for the applicable tenor, plus the applicable tenor spread adjustment, on and after the USD LIBOR Replacement Date, if BAC, as issuer, determines that a benchmark transition event and the related benchmark replacement date (as such terms are defined in such securities) have occurred and an interpolated rate (as such term is defined in such securities) cannot be determined. BAC, as issuer of these USD LIBOR Securities, expects these conditions to be satisfied on and after the LIBOR Replacement Date, such that three-month CME Term SOFR, plus the applicable tenor spread adjustment, will replace three-month USD LIBOR for each of these Annex 3 USD LIBOR Securities on and after the LIBOR Replacement Date in the same manner as described above for the Annex 1 and Annex 2 USD LIBOR Securities.

Tenor Spread Adjustment

The tenor spread adjustment for CME Term SOFR with respect to the following tenors of USD LIBOR, as set forth in the LIBOR Act and the LIBOR Rule, is:

Tenor	Tenor spread adjustment
One Month	0.11448%
Three Months	0.26161%

Conforming Changes

For the USD LIBOR Securities for which the Board-selected benchmark replacement becomes the benchmark replacement for USD LIBOR by operation of law under the LIBOR Act (the USD LIBOR Securities listed in Annex 1) or because selected as such by a determining person (the USD LIBOR Securities listed in Annex 2), the LIBOR Rule provides that certain benchmark replacement conforming changes will become an integral part of such securities by operation of law. See Annex 4 for a description of such conforming changes. In addition, a person responsible for calculating or determining any valuation, payment or other measurement based on a benchmark (a “calculating person”) has the authority under the LIBOR Act and the LIBOR Rule to make certain additional benchmark replacement conforming changes (in addition to those specified in LIBOR Rule) under securities such as the USD LIBOR Securities listed in Annex 1 and Annex 2 without any requirement to obtain consent from any other person. Any such additional changes that the applicable calculating person makes with respect to such USD LIBOR Securities will become an integral part of the applicable securities by operation of law and be the subject of a separate announcement on the Investors/Fixed Income portion of BAC’s website.

Under the terms of the USD LIBOR Securities listed in Annex 3, BAC, as issuer, will have the right to make benchmark replacement conforming changes. It is expected that BAC will determine that the benchmark replacement conforming changes adopted by the Board under the LIBOR Rule will also apply to such USD LIBOR Securities. If BAC makes any additional benchmark replacement conforming changes with respect to such USD LIBOR Securities, such additional changes will be the subject of a separate announcement on the Investors/Fixed Income portion of BAC’s website.

This press release applies only to the USD LIBOR Securities listed in the Annexes to this press release and does not relate to any other securities or other instruments. In advance of the LIBOR Replacement Date, further notices relating to CME Term SOFR as the benchmark replacement rate for USD LIBOR for the USD LIBOR Securities held through The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) will be made pursuant to the DTC LIBOR Replacement Index Communication Tool.

Forward-looking statements made in this press release include, without limitation, statements concerning the expected transition of the Annex 3 USD LIBOR Securities to CME Term SOFR for the applicable tenor, plus the applicable spread adjustment. You should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statement and should consider the uncertainties with respect to such transition and resulting risks that such transition would
